achieving success

together.

Finding the right person to fill a permanent vacancy can be a full time job. That's where we come in.

When you partner with the right recruiter, you will be able to unlock a world of talented teachers and support staff for your school or academy. Helping clients to maintain a balanced workforce whilst providing talented and motivated professionals has been at the core of our existence since 1960.

Randstad can help you to plan ahead and secure the right staff, ensuring that your school or academy continues to raise standards and attainment to produce outstanding results. Our dedicated national accounts team of recruitment specialists is focused purely on sourcing high quality candidates who are the right match for your permanent vacancies.

You can be confident in our ability to support you. Not only have we been appointed to the Crown Commercial Services Framework for Lots 1 and 2, but we are also a preferred supplier on the Crescent Purchasing Consortium, cementing our commitment to provide schools with high quality and compliant staff. In addition Randstad Education works with the DfE in commercial partnership: we supply international STEM and MFL teachers through two fully funded recruitment and acclimatisation programmes, giving schools the additional benefit of a wider talent pool in skill shortage areas.

As experienced recruiters, we have developed a range of online and offline candidate attraction techniques to keep you ahead of the curve as the education recruitment landscape continually evolves.

Our latest search technology harnesses the best of our own resources and databases working parallel with specialist job boards and CV searching tools to source and attract high quality candidates. This technology gives you instant access to relevant active and passive candidates for every role. Our specialist team is then able to present a shortlist of prospective applicants for your school or academy.

At Randstad, we will coordinate the entire recruitment process for you: from free advertising of your jobs online, to shortlisting candidates, interviewing and offer management, and everything in between. We use cutting edge video technology, offering a pre-recorded interview of all candidates, allowing you to assess their suitability before deciding to move forward.

candidates are at the heart of our business. We offer free continuous professional development to all our candidates by partnering with leading training provider EduCare, which allows us to maintain the high quality of education provision that you are used to. The courses range from child protection in education, to autism awareness.

Supporting our teaching and support staff doesn't stop there: every candidate who works with us has access to a fantastic benefits app. Along with exclusive discounts to high street shops and restaurants, the app has a section dedicated to mental health management, which has never been more important in the education industry. It has everything from immediate access to a confidential telephone counselling service, to an online support portal.
